AN ATTEMPT TO READ THE STARS. Let us see if we can forecast the future in case of free silver coinage.

1. A demand for gold would at once spring up. This, for the reason that Wheeling Register. our imports from Europe, and it is in Europe that we do our chief buying, have to be paid in gold. More than that, most of the railroad bonds negotiated, especially the last five years. placed on gold, and gold would become a commodity.

silver or the equivalent of silver.

3. Thus the United States would inevitably accumulate a large stock of Freeden pools.

time coining silver into silver dollars. of Cameron, Monroe county, has kept hitherto to put into circulation the silver dollar have been attenuated with little success. The people don't want the silver dollar. On June 1, 1896, there were in circulation only $52,717,-417-less than one apiece for the population. People prefer paper. Therefore it would not be long before the popular demand would be that the expense of minting be stopped, and that paper certificates be issued insteadand this would be true, too.

6. Accordingly the Government would be driven to the issue of legal tender silver certificates, setting forth that so and so many ounces of pure silver had been deposited in the U. S. Treasury.

7. That is to say, the silver would be dug from the earth to be placed and stored in Government vaults, to be held as pledge for the certificate issued against it.

8. In all probability it would not be long before people would begin to ask: What is the sense in the Government buying silver at $1.2929 an ounce, or issning certificates against silver based on that price?" They would ask: "Is'nt the credit of the Government, of this great, rich Nation, as good as the silver it holds?"

9. Especially would this question be asked as people began to discover that silver dollars, or money, were or was, no easier to get under free silver coinage than it is now. They would cry for more money.

10. This would lead to a demand for more greenbacks-irredeemable paper money.

presses would be set a-going, and money, paper money, would presently become so plentiful that every man, woman and child would have some-and

TRIPLE DROWNING.

Three Prominent Young Persons of Wellsburg in a Watery Grave.

One of the most appaling accidents n recent years occurred Thursday morning at Wellsburg at 10:30 o'clock, resulting in the death by drowning of three of the best and most popular young people in that community.

The accident occurred about one mile up the river. The "Camp Jolly" fishing club, located opposite Lazearville, nas always been considered the jolliest resort near Wellsburg, and so the young folks thought who started for the camp yesterday morning, namely: Miss Katherine Roberts, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Q. Roberts; Miss Alice Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Baxter, of the Hudson House, and Mr. James Lloyd, only son of Mr. James Lloyd, Sr. They drove to Lazearville, intending to cross the river in a skiff. Messrs. Arthur and Turner Roberts and Gambril Buchanan were already at the camp. When hailed they procured a canoe and came to the Virginia side of the river for their guests.

They reached the middle of the river, when the young ladies became frightened at the high wind and stood up in the boat. By so doing it upset, throwing the entire party into the water. A small boy was near with a skiff and managed to save Turner Roberts and Gambril Buchanan. Mr. Arthur Roberts had the presence of mind to catch hold of the boat and get the others to do so. Had they been satisfied with holding to the boat they might all have been saved, but Mr. Lloyd and Miss Baxter climbed on the capsized boat, which was slippery and caused it to upset again, all losing their hold. Mr. Arthur Roberts was saved by Mr. Geo. Bayley, who deserves great credit for risking his life to save them. Miss Baxter and young Lloyd had sunk for the last time when Bayley returned to try to save them.

All the parties belonged to prominent families in Wellsburg. Miss Roberts is especially well known in Wheeling, WE congratulate our friend Judge having lived there during her child-H. L. Sibley, of Marietta, on his nom- hood. The families have the sympathy of the entire community.

> Later reports from Wellsburg say the bodies have not been recovered yet. noon, but two of the party nearly lost their lives by the boat overturning-Mr. Joe McHenry and Mr. Shakely, of Four Prisoners Escape Friday Morn Lazearville. The wind is so high that it is dangerous for the rescuing party to resume work until it subsides .-
